

Martellago, 20 ottobre 2016

Novarex has always been dedicated to providing an excellent service and products to his clients.

For this reason has embarked on the road to the certification ISO 9001:2015 , made to respond to market's needs, and where possible go beyond.

Novarex commits itself to develop and implement an integrated system to manage hygiene to ensure compliance of the requirements to made safe products, while providing a services that exceed our customers' expectations.

This system, subject to periodical reviews, uses all the internal informations to improve continuously its processes.

The opening-up of new communication channels and the strong integration with advanced technological infrastructures are our strong points to achieve improvement and could offer to the client, following his requests, a real time product.

The business continuity is the fundamental target that moves the organization to work day by day with partners professionally qualified and with suppliers ready to respond to the customers' changing needs, upgrading continuously their equipments, in order to guarantee extreme solidity and stability.

The ongoing conformity to standards and laws remains our big commitment to provide always an adequate product to the clients' specific requirements.